Nancy,

I was catching up on my email after the holiday, and don't know how to react to Elizabeth's email. First, I want to apologize if I am out of line contacting your office. As we have talked about, I don't have any other avenue, since Elizabeth has shut down all communication with me. Is there a happy medium that you or Don can suggest? Two plus years is a long time to have no communication for a major investment.

Sincerely,

Alan

No, Alan, it has been about that long since you decided to start harassing our Chairman, despite the fact we communicated multiple times that if you did so, we would no longer respond to your requests to talk with you in light of all our past interactions. To the company's amazement, you have continued to do so on an ongoing basis ever since we had those conversations with you.

I will be talking to David again in the near future.

Elizabeth,

It has been over 2 years since you have communicated with your investors. I emailed you one week ago, following your instructions to David Harris, that investors should communicate directly with the company for an update. When I didn't get a response 6 days later, I reached out to your chairman. I don't understand your email. Does this mean that you can't, or won't communicate with me, or the other investors? I was led to believe that there would be events happening before the end of 2012 that would be publicly communicated. Has this changed?

Alan

Alan,

We have communicated about this multiple times before yet you choose to continue going down this path.

Hello Elizabeth,

Please see the note below from Alan Eisenman. Would you please have the appropriate person get in touch with him to provide a status report? Don does not want to get involved in communications regarding Theranos with any of its shareholders.

Kind regards,

Nancy,

Here is the email I sent last Tuesday, which has been ignored. Hope to hear from you or Donald.

Thank you,

Alan
