Subject: some good news, for once i just got done the calculations for the first 2 of the 5 capillary 1800 analyte (glucose and sodium) validations, and they look excellent have to say, not a fan of the studies themselves, but numbers are strong, and i should be able to beat down CMS with analytics on those 2, if necessary the remaining 3 are in another binder that Langly will have to find for me, so will get them tomorrow
