Funny you should say that because Nancy wrote me an email about my recap yesterday saying "well, you've set the bar - not everyone listens as well". Course, what she doesn't know is that I can type 110 words a minute and basically typed everything I heard verbatim. And you KNOW how certain people go on and on about what side of the mountain the wood was grown on for the pallets that are holding our products and that the tires on the trucks delivering them needed to have their tires rotated !!! I didn't put HALF the shit in there because it's supposed to be a RECAP. I still thought I was Nancyish on it.

How much you wanna bet this becomes a competition? First, Jinping will include charts and a graph. Then, because the gauntlet had been thrown, I'll add custom photos and graphics...maybe music will play when you open the email. Something "pharmaceutical". Like the song "White Rabbit"...one pill makes you bigger, and one pill makes you small...and the ones that mother gives you, don't do anything at all!

We get to take TURNS being the scribe. Berryman did it last Monday. They pick somebody from each group to do it so nobody gets stuck with it. Honestly, I think it's for Perfetto since he's been missing a lot of calls. They said it was for anybody that missed the meeting - they could review what happened on the call. Well, geez, can we ALL just do the review afterward !!!!!

Good morning.

This is quite comprehensive.. as I would naturally expect from any document that you prepare.

How did you get targeted for this special honor? Not for nothing, but aren't people supposed to be listening to the meeting in the first place?

Everyone:

Below is a recap of today's meeting.

OXYMORPHONE:

We successfully launched Oxymorphone on Friday, July 15th with over 75% market share. The product released early in the day and dropped $1.4 million in orders to UPS before lunchtime. 4500 units shipped to every customer for overnight delivery for receipt today. 100% of customers were able to track their shipments. The Kadian team will be training with Ara next Monday so they will be able to bring the doctors they normally visit up to speed on the generic option and also deliver the direct mailing materials that you will all receive at the trade show. We are focusing on creating awareness and want to target physicians to continue to write and increase their scripts. We have a two-way direct mail campaign to the top 10 prescribing physicians. The second wave will go out the Tuesday after Labor Day. We want to cover both physicians and pharmacists to let them know that a generic is now available. We have booked Pharmacy Times (Aug). and will work with major wholesalers and chains to target doctors and patients to get the word out to utilize the generic. The sales team can be helpful in driving this to get reasonable feedback from customers over several weeks to see if the demand has increased or maintained and will help in planning for production and evaluating the effectiveness of our marketing campaign. David will be sending out the product profile and stat sheet today. Nancy will follow up on Cheryl's post launch spreadsheet.

OUR FOCUS:

Sales for the month - $20.3 vs. $46.4. We are short since there are many new products that have not been approved. We need to get additional traction on Fentanyl. We have underachieved on Valacyclovir. Valacyclovir finished goods and API is piling up and there's a space and value concern. Let's give another go-round and see what the opportunities are. Mylan continues to be the market leader and are leary to give up share. Perhaps we can target smaller accounts. We have product to cover us based on our 10% market share and we are currently at 4%. There may be opportunity to pick up additional Oxycodone since there continues to be shortages in the marketplace. There is a price increase going out on Thursday on several liquids and topicals. There are a couple of bids that are outstanding. Cardinal's cough/cold buy will go out next week. We need closure on outstanding offers so we can let the plant know whether to ramp up. NDC number changes continue to occur. Customers will be notified of the Despiramine NDC change. Violet feels that after Aug 8th we can work on picking up at least an additional 10% market share on Despiramine.

METHYLPHENIDATE:

We have about 75% market share secured. Our Regulatory team spoke with FDA last week and we are expecting a response by the end of the month. We haven't seen any signs of Sandoz movement so we will forego a press release and ship product when we can.

David has not received the new products list from Regulatory and has had to revise it since the prior one is now obsolete. David will be re-submitting this week.
