I am getting it. It was missed off the data they provided. I do need the answer to the question for the reason of the larger order, if you can ask the store
Thanks

Jim,

We have an order for 1000 Oxycodone 30mg that is being held because the customer has not previously ordered such a large quantity of this item. Please ask the customer to provide us with the following.

- A written explanation of the reason for the size of this order
- An updated Customer Questionnaire
- The most recent three (3) month dispensing report
- SOP's

The above information is required from the customer by 9pmEST today or the order will not ship. If the information is not received by 4pm tomorrow (December 18th), the order will be deleted.

Thank you.
