Hi Sean;

I seem to remember there was some aspect of the Axway software that was going to be an issue related to the number of stores accessing the system during CSOS Phase II. Was it the inability of Axway to provide a view of each store's data (preventing one store from seeing another's data) or, perhaps I am thinking of Pedigree ?

If you recall, could you please let me know what the issue was?

Thanks

Last week the DEA came into Perrysburg with subpoena's looking at records for suspicious drug ordering dating back to Feb 2011. We believe they could lock Perrysburg up and not allow us to ship from there. If that happens for CII, the only alternative is to utilize a wholesaler. Due to the volume there is a large concern manually handling the 222 forms. We believe there will be a need to get the store CSOS (controlled substance ordering system) up pretty quickly. I did give Denise a heads up. Brian Amend is pulling up the original plan with information from your teams. Anticipate a kick off meeting to get reoriented to the project soon.

Be Well,
