Hi Calvin,

We checked CURES and there is no history of any control filled @ Safeway by this patient. Either way, none of the pharmacists here feel comfortable filling from that specific doctor. If it was another doctor, then we can fill.

Hi Johnny,

Patients mention he got switched to 1mg lorazepam before bed daily and was filled at safeway. And would like to fill at your store in November, would that be a problem or still the same since it is the same doctor?

Thanks,

Calvin Yeung

Hi Calvin,

The prescriber in question is Guido Gores. He has red flag prescribing habits that do not satisfy GFD. We have not filled controlled substances from this doctor since 2019.

He prescribes a full bottle of promethazine w/ codeine to several patients monthly - in some occasions, weekly - often with opioids and benzos. The drug is only meant to be a short-term use medication, not something used year-round. Also, full bottle of promethazine w/ codeine is highly sought after on the streets. Some of these patients have a habit of also trying to get the cough syrup filled early. When the doctor's office responded the diagnosis as "asthma" or "COPD", we inquired why there were no maintenance inhalers on file. They ignored our questions.

In 2019 we called #13666 since they were the pharmacy closest to Guido Gores' office. They too did not feel comfortable filling his scripts for similar reasons.

On 9/9/2019 we were asked by pharmacy integrity to mail some hardcopies of clonazepam and promethazine w/ codeine that were prescribed by Guido Gores. The doctor was being investigated by the DEA (Case#: R9-19-2023). Other Walgreens in the city were also asked to mail hardcopies of other prescribed drugs such as Norco, Soma, Xanax, Adderall, etc.

We informed the customer on December 11th 2019 why we refused to fill from Guido Gores, and he understood, and went to another pharmacy. We documented this in our RX Refusal folder.

Feel free to let me know if you need anything else,

Johnny Chin

Hello,

Can I get some background on this before I reply to the custom?

Prescriber in question was investigated by the DOJ for questionable prescribing of controlled substances and thus, does not satisfy our Good Faith Dispensing guidelines. The doctor's office was already aware we do not fill controls from this doctor at this location.

I explained to the patient that we cannot make the pharmacy fill his medication and that he would need to discuss with them why they are not filling it.
