Old news. I don't know what prompted them to leak it at this point in time – perhaps they think it helps the newsflow on Tesla.

So far they have financed it with cash. JPM did the on market purchase and gave them some s/f funding through a delayed settlement whilst they got money from the MoF.

We got asked to price a margin loan on this and Softbank last week – proceeds to buy more of each. Unclear whether this is real or another fire drill like last time

I don't see any harm in you telling Elon this was the inquiry you made given it is now public

As you are probably aware we are hopefully making a $1b relationship loan to PIF. Wassim, the team and I are in Riyadh on Thursday to meet the CEO of PIF to discuss what business they intend to do and put forward our asks for types of things we want to do.

Is that new news?

Or is that what we knew about long ago?

Who ended up doing that for them?
